Why we are not independent, impartial or unbiased in relation to the provision of personal advice and the impact of this on you

HIAIS is part of the Aon Group of companies.

HIAIS and Aon may receive remuneration or other non-monetary benefits from insurers which restricts us from referring to ourselves as independent, impartial or unbiased as it may reasonably be expected to influence the personal advice provided to you and may cause a conflict of interest. Please refer to the Conflicts of Interest section on page 5 as to how we manage Conflicts of Interest and the impact on you.

Introduction

We aim to provide you with insurance products and services that protect you and/or enhance your business. To help us achieve this, it's important that you understand what we do as your insurance broker.

Our FSG contains important information about the products and services HIAIS, as an authorised representative of Aon, offers. It also explains how we and Aon may be remunerated and contains details of our internal and external complaints handling procedures.

By continuing to engage HIAIS to provide insurance services, you are, in the absence of a formal written retainer agreement, agreeing to the delivery of our services and the remuneration as described in this FSG.

If you are buying a Retail Product (as defined in the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)), we will, if and when required, also give you a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). The PDS contains information from the product issuer about the product and its features to assist you in making an informed decision about whether or not to buy it.

If we give you personal advice about a Retail Product, which takes into account your individual objectives, financial situation or needs, we will, if required, also give you a Statement of Advice (SoA). This contains the advice we have given, the basis of that advice and other information about our remuneration and any relevant associations or interests which may have influenced the advice provided.

Please tell us if you think we can improve in any way and do not hesitate to contact us with any questions that you have.

This FSG is also available on our websites:

www.aon.com.au and www.hiainsurance.com.au

How you can instruct us

You can give instructions to us to provide products and services by using the contact details set out in this FSG.

Our products and services

As an authorised representative of Aon, we are authorised to deal in and provide advice in relation to general insurance products.

Under our authorisation, amongst other things, we are able to:

- arrange general insurance products to help you protect against insurable risks;
- collect information that insurers require from you;
- where needed, provide you with information and advice about general insurance products; and
- where needed, assist you to make insurance claims.

Arranging your insurances

While cost is always important, the quality of insurance cover offered by a policy is equally important. Insurance that does not match your needs is worthless, however cheap the premium.

As one of Australia's leading insurance brokers, HIA Insurance Services who are part of the Aon Group have many clients in similar businesses and situations with similar risks and needs. For these groups, HIAIS and Aon designs and develops products (Aon Products) which combine good pricing and quality cover from reputable insurers. Where we believe it suits your risks and needs, we will only recommend an Aon Product (rather than alternative insurance products).

Where we don't have an Aon Product suitable to your risks and needs we will, unless you agree otherwise, seek quotes from appropriate insurers and help you identify an alternative insurance product. While we endeavour to provide a range of products to suit the general needs of our clients, we cannot guarantee the availability of insurance for your particular risks or the solvency of insurers.

In order to arrange your insurance, we rely on you to provide accurate and complete information. We also rely on you to carefully review all documents we give you (including policies and endorsements) containing the terms of your cover (including applicable limits, sub-limits, deductibles and your obligations) to ensure that the cover suits your needs and so that you comply with your obligations under your policies. Failure to do this may result in uninsured losses. Please advise us immediately if you notice any mistakes of fact or believe the contents do not address your needs.

In some circumstances, we may arrange a renewal offer based on your expiring policy information and coverage requirements and where authorised by you, arrange for payment to be deducted from your approved method of payment. As part of the renewal packages we send you, we will remind you of your legal duty of disclosure and request that you review and update your renewal and coverage information as well as any applicable payment preferences, if needed. Please contact us if you do not wish to take up any renewal offer.

Who do we act for?

HIAIS normally acts for you in providing insurance services on behalf of Aon. Aon is responsible for the insurance services it has authorised HIAIS to provide to you. When HIAIS arranges cover for you or when HIAIS provides general or personal financial product advice to you, both HIAIS and Aon act for you.

We will tell you before or at the time of purchase if we are not acting for you in providing our insurance services. For example, an insurer may give us 'binding authority' to arrange or enter into insurance products on their behalf. We could also agree to handle or settle claims on an insurer's behalf. We will inform you if we act for an insurer in this way.

The people who provide our services

We usually provide our services using HIAIS employees. However, in some cases we may use "Distributors".

"Distributors" are third parties who we have authorised to deal in specific insurance products on our behalf. Distributors can only provide factual information and are not authorised to provide any advice.

Our Distributors are not employees of HIAIS and do not receive a salary. Instead they may be paid a percentage of the commission and/or other part of our remuneration for the services they provide.

Our correspondence with you and/or correspondence from our third party representatives will disclose if a Distributor is providing a financial service on our behalf.

Our employees receive an annual salary which may include a bonus based on performance. They may also from time to time be eligible to receive incentives or bonuses based on service, retention and increasing new business.

Our remuneration

Unless we have agreed in writing otherwise, our remuneration will comprise the following:

- a commission paid to us by the insurer;
- a fee which will be agreed with you beforehand; or
- a combination of commission and fee.

A commission paid to us by an insurer is standard for insurance brokers and our rates of commission typically range from 5% to 35% of the premium (before taxes and statutory charges) depending on the type of insurance. Different insurers may pay different rates of commission.

In addition, we may also receive the following:

- a broker service charge for policy invoicing, premium collection and remittance, for issuing policies and other insurance administration work. This charge will appear on your invoice and will vary depending on the work involved and the commission we receive;
- in some cases, you may need specific risk advice which we do not provide (such as a business interruption analysis or a valuation). Where we refer you for such advice to our related companies or any other provider, they will charge a separate fee for these services, which will be agreed with you beforehand and we may receive remuneration for the referral;
- in some cases, an insurer may quote its premium net of our commission. Where this happens, we may increase the broker service charge by the amount of commission that would normally apply to this type of insurance or agree a specific fee with you;
- where we provide you with a SoA in relation to a Retail Product, we will advise you of the full amount of our remuneration in relation to that Retail Product; and
- we may charge an additional administration fee for any change to the policy that requires us to produce a further statement or invoice or a certificate of currency. We may deduct and retain this fee from any premium refund due to you from the insurer, arising in connection with the policy change.

Please note that we treat our remuneration as fully earned when we issue you with a tax invoice, unless we have a written agreement with you that varies this statement. You agree that we may retain all our commission, fees and other remuneration in full in the event of any mid-term cancellation of a policy or future downward adjustment of premium. However, where you cancel your insurance policy under a statutory cooling-off entitlement, we will refund to you any part of our remuneration already paid to us for that policy at the date of cancellation. You also agree that the insurer and HIAIS may offset such remuneration from any premium refund you are entitled to.

A surcharge may apply to all credit card payments. The nominated surcharge will be displayed on your invoice.

We want to be entirely transparent about our remuneration so please ask us if you want more information or have any questions.

Does HIAIS or Aon receive any other remuneration for its service?

Interest

The law requires us to pay your premiums (and certain monies paid to us by insurers for your account) into a trust account pending payment to the insurer. We are entitled to earn and retain interest on these monies to cover the cost of providing these transactional services. Our standard credit terms for premium payments are 14 days from the date of our invoice. We pay insurers within the period dictated by the law or earlier if the insurer requires.

Premium Funding

We may offer to arrange premium funding to help spread the cost of your insurance premiums over the year. When Aon arranges premium funding, we act as agent for the premium funder for the purposes of facilitating your initial loan application, and not as your credit provider or finance broker. Aon may also act as the premium funder's agent in cancelling any insurance where you have failed to meet your repayment obligations.

Additionally, Aon may act as your agent to apply for and accept subsequent funding in respect of your loan facility for future purposes, for instance to fund endorsements, modifications and renewals of your insurances, unless otherwise instructed by you.

The details of your premium funding arrangement will be set out in your separate agreement with the premium funder. We have a profit share arrangement with the premium funder where we receive a percentage of the profit they make from the funding we arrange for our clients. We may also receive a separate commission which is a percentage of the amount of funding provided to you.

Should your funded insurance policy be cancelled mid-term, for any reason, you should be aware that there may be a shortfall between the balance of the amount payable under the premium funding contract and the return premium as:

- the premium funder may be entitled to charge interest for up to the full term of the loan period under the terms of the funding contract;
- there will be no pro rata refund of our commission or fee as our remuneration is fully earned when we issue you with a tax invoice, unless we have a written agreement with you to the contrary; and
- in some cases, insurers may apply minimum premiums to policies.

Aon Group

Aon is part of a large financial and professional services group of companies (Aon Group). There are other parts of the Aon Group that may earn and retain remuneration in connection with insurance we place for you. However, these are kept separate and distinct from the services that we provide to you so that they do not influence us from acting in conflict with your interests. The following are more frequent examples.

Reinsurance Broking

The Aon Group has separate reinsurance broking companies that arrange insurance for insurers (called reinsurance). In some cases, an insurer may ask one of our reinsurance broking companies to arrange reinsurance in respect of insurance purchased by you, in which case that company may also earn commission or other remuneration.

Aon Product Design and Development

The Aon Group has a separate product design and development company (APDD) which has developed electronic quoting and placement platforms to enable Aon to efficiently obtain competitive quotations from panels of established insurers under the terms of insurance products also developed by APDD. The work that APDD does reduces the insurers' work and costs.

In recognition of this, the insurers pay APDD an annual and/or a per transaction license fee for access to and use of these platforms and/or Aon Products. The transaction licence fee is calculated in a range between 2% and 7.5% of premium (excluding statutory charges and taxes) applying to the transaction. We will advise you where we intend to use an Aon Product as part of your insurance placement prior to arranging your insurance.

Third Party Administrators

We or another Aon Group company may provide services to a third party administrator (TPA), who in turn provides services to us, which typically include general policy administration and claims handling services, on behalf of one or more underwriters. The Aon Group company engaged by the TPA may receive remuneration from the TPA for the services it provides to the TPA.

Profit Share Arrangements

We or another Aon Group company may sometimes receive additional remuneration from insurers, their agents (such as third-party administrators) and other service providers through profit commissions on certain products where they are legally permissible and meet standards and controls to address conflicts of interest. Because the amount of the profit share earned may vary depending on factors relating to performance of a portfolio over a given period, the amount of profit commission attributable to any particular product will typically not be known at the time of placement. We will not recommend a product to you unless it is suitable for your needs. If we receive a profit share in relation to a product we recommend to you, we will advise you at the time of recommendation.

Binder or Coverholder Authority

Aon Group companies may earn remuneration where they act as an agent for an insurer under a binder or Coverholder authority in respect of insurance that we may arrange for you. We will not recommend placing any insurance with such an agent unless it is an appropriate solution for your general needs. Your invoice will identify where a product that has been recommended to you has been developed and/or managed by another company in the Aon Group.

Consulting Services to Insurers and Reinsurers

Aon Group companies also provide specialised consulting services to insurers and reinsurers for which they may receive remuneration.

Non-monetary Benefits

Aon, its staff and HIAIS may also receive non-monetary benefits from insurers such as sponsorships of conferences, client functions, meals and entertainment. Aon has and monitors compliance with a policy that ensures that these do not create a conflict with your interests.

Wholesale Brokers, MGA's and International Markets

To meet your insurance needs, we may need to access certain insurance markets, including international insurance markets, through a wholesale broker or a Managing General Agent (MGA) who acts on behalf of an insurer. We may use an Aon Group company for this and they may receive commission on the policies they place at standard rates in that particular market.

Lloyds and London Market Aon Carrier Charges

Many insurers in the London market outsource specific administrative services to the Aon Group, which reduces their work and costs. In return, the Aon Group is paid fees known as Aon Carrier Charges which are typically in a range between 2.5% and 6% of premiums applying to a transaction.

Investment Portfolio

Companies in the Aon Group hold equity and loan stock in other companies as part of our investment portfolio. These companies may occasionally be utilised in the delivery of the services we provide and sometimes some of these companies may have an interest in Aon. You can view details at <http://www.aon.com/about-aon/corporate-governance/guidelines-policies/market-relationship.jsp>. We will specifically notify you where we have a material interest in any company involved in the services we provide that is not obviously part of the Aon Group.

Should you require further information regarding any of the above forms of indirect remuneration or benefits, please contact your HIAIS Client Relationship Manager.

What do we do with our remuneration?

A large part of the remuneration we receive pays the salaries and wages of our staff and the remuneration we may pay to our Distributors. Our remuneration also funds normal business expenses such as rent and technology.

We often work closely with trade or industry associations in developing and distributing certain insurance products. Sometimes these associations endorse the insurance product we offer to their members. We may pay part of our remuneration or an agreed referral fee to an association for their assistance or endorsement.

We also have relationships with various banks and other businesses which, when they consider it appropriate, will recommend Aon and our services to their clients. We may pay part of our remuneration or an agreed referral fee to these referrers in recognition of this introduction.

Conflicts of interest

Conflicts of interest may arise in circumstances where some or all of your interests as our client are, or may be, inconsistent with some or all of our interests.

Aon has a conflicts of interest policy and procedure, including training and monitoring, to ensure we are aware of and manage any conflicts of interest. Our company, staff and our representatives must comply with this policy and procedure.

Where a conflict is unavoidable we will consult with you and manage the conflict in such a way as to avoid prejudice to any party.

Other important information

Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into a contract of insurance, you have a duty under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth) (ICA) to disclose anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, or in the case of consumer contracts (as defined in Part IV of the ICA) (Consumer Contracts) to take all reasonable care to disclose anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that may affect the insurer's decision to insure you and on what terms. You have that duty after proposal, and up until the time the insurer agrees to insure you. You have the same duty before you renew, extend, vary or reinstate a contract of insurance.

You do not need to tell the insurer anything that:

- reduces the risk that is insured;
- is common knowledge;
- your insurer knows or should know as an insurer; or
- the insurer waives compliance with your duty of disclosure.

If you are uncertain about whether or not a particular matter should be disclosed to the insurer, please contact your HIAIS Client Relationship Manager.

Non-disclosure

If you fail to take reasonable care in disclosing information to us in the case of Consumer Contracts, or do not tell your insurer anything you are required to, the insurer may cancel your contract or reduce the amount that it is required to pay you if you make a claim, or both. If your failure to disclose is fraudulent, the insurer may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

Professional Indemnity Insurance

In accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), Aon maintains adequate Professional Indemnity insurance on our behalf. This insurance cover extends to claims in relation to our conduct as an authorised representative of an Australian Financial Services Licence holder and our employees and representatives both past and present, to compensate clients or their beneficiaries for loss or damage suffered if we provide negligent advice.

Premium and Invoice Calculations

We adopt industry practice in calculating local statutory charges.

All amounts referred to in our invoices, unless stated otherwise, are to be treated as exclusive of GST. Where the invoice is for a foreign currency amount, any applicable GST is converted to Australian dollars at the exchange rate published by the Reserve Bank of Australia at 4pm on the business day prior to the date of the invoice.

We make every effort to correctly determine the premium and statutory charges that apply to your insurance however, occasionally errors can occur. We may correct any such error and (except to the extent prohibited by law) we will not be responsible for any loss you suffer as a result of the error or its correction.

Privacy

We value the privacy of personal information and are bound by the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) when we collect, use, disclose or handle personal information. We collect personal information to offer, provide, manage and administer the many financial services and products we and our group of companies are involved in (including those outlined in this FSG).
